As we look forward to the crisp autumn air and the beautiful fall foliage that surrounds our campus, we also embark on our annual fundraising campaign. In October, we will reach out via telephone to Coe-Brown Northwood Academy (CBNA) graduates and ask that you make a financial contribution in support of CBNA.

Last year's generous donations were used in part to extend and weather-proof our main school entrance by creating a vestibule in front of the Norma Schliessman Cater lobby located between Pinkham Hall and the Gerrish Gymnasium. In addition, donations contribute to a grant program available to CBNA faculty and staff each year. These grants help expand existing programs in the areas of Academics, Arts, Athletics, and Vocational Education.

Our team of dedicated faculty and staff members, supported by the Board of Trustees, promotes high academic and vocational standards and excellence, instills a sense of civic responsibility, and creates an environment that supports lifelong learning and personal responsibility. We are proud to announce that as a result of the hard work and dedication of the CBNA team and students, CBNA was recently ranked as one of Newsweek's Top 500 High Schools in America, as well as the third ranked school in NH.

Please support our efforts to honor the Academy's past and strengthen Coe-Brown Northwood Academy's present and future initiatives. This year's campaign will be used, in part, to add technology in some of our classrooms, as well as to provide a grants program.

You don't have to wait for the phone to ring to make a tax-deductible donation; you can make a one-time or monthly-recurring donation anytime at www.coebrown.org/giving. Any amount makes a difference — whether $5 or $500 — Every gift matters!

With sincere thanks,

CBNA was ranked in the top 500 schools in America by Newsweek.

Three New Hampshire schools were recently recognized by Newsweek's 2016 Top High Schools list, including Coe-Brown Northwood Academy, which was ranked #361 in America.

"This recognition and honor is a testament to our strong community of students who are determined and focused on their education as well as the faculty, staff and families who educate, guide, and support them. It is a dynamic relationship that helps our students succeed," says David S. Smith, Headmaster

The list included 500 high schools from over 26,000 in the country, putting Coe-Brown in the top 2% of high schools in the nation. Newsweek selects its schools first by looking at student proficiency on state tests. Schools are then ranked based on college enrollment rates, graduation rates, weighted AP/IB/dual enrollment, weighted SAT/ACT composite, student retention and counselor-to-student ratio. The recognition validates CBNA's mission to "strive to produce graduates who are academically and socially prepared to be responsible, caring and contributing members of the global society".

"We are very proud of our CBNA community and we celebrate our students' achievements," said Smith.
