There Are 696 Good Reasons to Support Coe-Brown Northwood Academy’s Annual Fund

Here are some of them...

Your gift to Coe-Brown Northwood Academy’s Annual Fund directly benefits the students at CBNA and ensures that the excellent education you enjoyed while a student there continues and in the years to come. Annual Fund dollars will be dedicated to a comprehensive, campus-wide signage program. Please use the Annual Fund envelope enclosed in this magazine to make your gift.

You can make a difference!

Gerald Giles ’47 marks 50 years as an attorney

Gerald Giles ’47, recently passed a major milestone: his 50th year since admission to the New Hampshire Bar. Mr. Giles reflected on his law career recently during a visit with CBNA Trustee Roberta Wallace Stearns ’57 and Director of Development and Alumni Affairs Margaret Joyce.

“I credit Elizabeth Houser, my teacher at the Canterbury Center School with being one of my role models,” says Gerald. “Each morning we saluted the flag and recited the twenty-third psalm. By the time I reached the third grade I had learned all I needed to know about ethics.”

In addition to Canterbury Center School and Coe-Brown, Gerald attended Kimball Union Academy in Meriden for one year before heading off to Colgate University where he received his bachelor of arts degree in 1953. The decision to become a lawyer came when Gerald was awarded a full-tuition scholarship to the University of Chicago Law School.

After receiving his juris doctor degree in 1956, he returned to New Hampshire to practice law. Gerald had a general practice with emphasis on plaintiff personal injury including medical malpractice and products liability. He served as a judge for the Rye, New Hampshire, Municipal Court from 1960 to 2000. The first lawyer to be certified a Civil Trial Advocate by the National Board of Trial Advocacy, Gerald received the William A. Grimes Award for Judicial Professionalism in 2001.

Outside of his professional accomplishments, Gerald counts qualifying and running in the 1977 and 1978 Boston Marathons among his greatest personal achievements. He is also proud of having served as a coach for his grandchildren in wiffle ball, tee-ball and soccer from 1992 to 1997. Gerald is married to Judith A. Giles and, between them they have seven children and 10 grandchildren.

Now semiretired, Gerald and Judith own and operate a self-storage facility in Portsmouth. “My law practice is minimal,” says Gerald. “I am attempting to learn to play golf. My grandson tells me that I am only three-quarters old. Hopefully I have enough years left to learn!”

Congratulations, Gerald, on your distinguished law career and your fifty years as a member of the New Hampshire Bar Association.

A rich CBNA tradition:

Gerald Giles was not the first member of his family to graduate from Coe-Brown Northwood Academy. His father, Gerald Giles, graduated in 1919. Several aunts and uncles are also CBNA alumni: Arthur ’13 and Annie ’19 Giles; Leonard ’15 and Ruby ’18 Giles. Leonard was a member of the CBNA Board of Trustees, as was Gerald Giles ’47, and Ruby was a major benefactor of the school. The Ruby M. Giles Music Center is named in her honor.
If you had asked Ginger Snow ’89 (formerly Sanford) a decade ago if she ever thought she would compete in a women’s football league, she would have answered emphatically, “No way!” But that is exactly what this 1989 Coe-Brown graduate is doing, in addition to holding down a full-time job as a web administrator.

“After playing competitive sports in school for so many years, I felt that there was a void in my life,” says Ginger. “I didn’t go looking for women’s football; it kind of found me.”

Ginger is a wide receiver for the Mass Mutiny, which is part of the National Women’s Football Association. She has played for the team, in the same position, for four years. “I feel like I was born to play this position,” says Ginger. “I never thought of myself as having the build to be a football player, but it turns out I am just the right size for a wide receiver. I do get tackled, but it’s usually by women who are the same size as I am.”

In high school, Ginger was a member of the Coe-Brown varsity softball, volleyball and basketball teams. In fact, Ginger was the first person to play varsity all four years in all three sports. She considers former CBNA Athletic Director Tom Hall to be a great friend and found him to be an amazing coach. She was coached in softball by Ray Mason, now the dean of the Division of Humanities, and in volleyball by William Nunally, who has since left the Academy.

Ginger was awarded a full basketball scholarship to the University of Massachusetts at Lowell, where she majored in fine arts. Her original plan was to become a graphic designer, but she became involved in web site administration and has worked in that field since graduating from college. A native of Deerfield, Ginger now lives and works in Boston.

The women’s football season runs from April to August, and Ginger joins her teammates in practice two nights a week, as well as during the weekend. The team members do not receive any compensation, and they have to buy all their own equipment, which goes to show how dedicated these women are. “During the practices we have to focus on learning football skills,” says Ginger. “We do weight training and conditioning on our own time. You have to be really motivated!”

Ginger believes that women’s football is catching on but says it is hard to get the word out since the league doesn’t have any money to market itself. “We depend on word of mouth, and you know how slow that can be,” she says.

When asked how long she plans to continue playing football, Ginger responds, “As long as my body will allow. We have a woman on our team who is 45!”

The Mass Mutiny plays all their home games at the English High football field in Jamaica Plain.

For more information about the team and to view the game schedule, visit www.massmutiny.com.
The 152 members of the Coe-Brown Northwood Academy 137th Commencement Class of 2006 were led into the Smith Hall Gymnasium on Friday, May 26, by Junior Class Marshalls Amanda Elliott and Kyle Faucher.

Headmaster David Smith and Assistant Headmaster Paul Davis presided over the ceremony, which featured musical selections from the CBNA band and the CBNA chorus. Following an invocation by Rev. Robert White, Jr., Senior Class President Garren Hilow welcomed his fellow graduates as well as the many family, friends, faculty members and trustees in attendance.

Valedictorian Ashley Jones’ address was laced with humorous recollections of her and her classmates’ four years at Coe-Brown, while Salutatorian Lindsey Phelan delivered an inspiring message about facing the future. Lauren Berger’s farewell address was particularly moving as she recalled learning of her father’s illness during her senior year and how it made her realize how important it is to live fully in the moment and to appreciate those around you.

Headmaster Smith continued the tradition of personally tossing each of the graduate’s tassels while trustees James Colburn and Judy Sanderson facilitated the distribution of diplomas. After the graduates filed out of the gymnasium, they formed a receiving line outside Smith Hall where they greeted family and friends to share in the joy of the occasion.

The valedictorian for the class of 2006 was Ashley Jones of Barnstead. Among other activities, Miss Jones served as class secretary and was a member of the National Honor Society, the Latin Honor Society, Project SEARCH and Future Business Leaders of America. She was offered admission and scholarships to several colleges. Saint Michael’s College awarded her the Saint Michael’s Scholarship; she received a Trustee Scholarship from Wheaton College; and Colby-Sawyer College granted her a Presidential Scholarship. She is attending Colby-Sawyer with an undeclared major.

The 2006 salutatorian was Lindsey Phalen of Center Strafford. She is attending Holy Cross College as a political science/pre-law major. At Coe-Brown, Miss Phalen was president of the CBNA Student Council and vice president for the class. She was a member of the National Honor Society, Project SEARCH, Peer Helpers and the track and field team. In addition to her school activities, Miss Phalen was a member of the Arts Rochester Youth Dance Ensemble and has studied guitar privately.
Lauren Berger of Deerfield was an active member in the music department at Coe-Brown, performing with the band, the chorus and other music groups. She was a member of the National Honor Society, Future Business Leaders of America, the Bible Club and the Math Team. In addition, she was a member of the cross country and track and field teams. Miss Berger is attending Gordon College where she is pursuing a degree in either psychology or secondary education for mathematics. She is the recipient of the Rensselaer Medal and has received the Challenge Scholarship from Gordon College.

Andrew Burgess is also from Deerfield and was a valuable member of Coe-Brown’s varsity baseball team. In addition, he is a member of a local bowling league and plays AAU baseball. Mr. Burgess is attending Rochester Institute of Technology where he is majoring in computer science. He was offered scholarships from two schools: the University Award from Worcester Polytechnic Institute and a Merit Scholarship from Rensselaer Institute of Technology.

Amie Lank of Barnstead was recognized with a Women’s Scholar Athlete Scholarship from the New Hampshire Commission on the Status of Women. Both Saint Michael’s College and Salve Regina University offered her scholarships; she is currently attending Saint Michael’s. At Coe-Brown, Miss Lank was a member of the National Honor Society and the National French Honor Society. In addition, she was a member of the cheerleading, cross country and track and field teams.

Beth O’Malley of Northwood is attending Cornell University and is majoring in communications. At Coe-Brown she was a member of the International Thespian Society and the National Honor Society. In addition, she served as president of Peer Helpers.

Zackary Philip Smith of Strafford was captain of the varsity basketball and tennis teams. In addition, he was president of the National Honor Society. A recipient of the Chancellor’s Scholarship from Syracuse University, Mr. Smith is attending Syracuse to major in broadcast journalism.

Krista Stalzer of Strafford is attending University of New Hampshire on a Dean’s Scholarship and will major in history. At Coe-Brown she was a member of both the National Spanish Honor Society and the National Honor Society. In addition, she was active in Fusion and with Students Against Destructive Decisions.

Kristen Swain of Strafford was a member of the CBNA cheerleading team. She was also a member of the National Honor Society, the National Spanish Honor Society, Young Environmental Activists and Project SEARCH. Miss Swain received a scholarship from the Strafford Women’s Garden Club as well as an Academic Merit Scholarship from Simmons College. She is attending Simmons College where she is studying nursing.

Devin Maye Zylak of Dunbarton is studying physical therapy at Colby-Sawyer College. At Coe-Brown she was a member of the volleyball, basketball and softball teams. In addition, she was a member of the National Honor Society, the National Spanish Honor Society, Future Business Leaders of America and the Bible Club.

Donations help fund grants for CBNA faculty and staff

Several faculty and staff members were awarded $500 grants for academic year 2005-2006. The funds for this grant program are donated by individuals who wish their gift to be used in specific areas such as Arts, Academics, Athletics, Vocational Education and Administration. We are extremely fortunate to have the support of these dedicated and generous benefactors. The grant recipients are:

- M. Honor Arnstein and Ms. Jean Cumings for a Healthy Choices Club
- Ms. Wendi Colby and Ms. Stacy Sweet for support of the literacy program
- Mr. David S. Smith, Headmaster, for a Student Leader Dinner and Program
- Mr. Paul Lacroix for Analysis of the Assisted Study and Transition Assistance programs
- Ms. Patricia Savage for her Bookmaking in the Classroom program

As a condition of the grant, each recipient submitted a summary report of the completed project detailing how the funds were expended as well as the short-term impact of the project and any anticipated long-term benefits to the school. Thank you to all our donors for your support.

A number of new books and other materials were purchased for CBNA’s library through the restricted fund grant program.

World languages teacher Rebecca Shoup holds a six-month-old Bahwahnii child at an HIV/AIDS orphanage during her trip to Senegal and the Gambia this summer. The trip was sponsored by Coe-Brown’s grant-in-aid program. Science teacher Jean Cumings also took advantage of the grant-in-aid program with a trip to Thailand to volunteer at a wildlife rescue center.
CBNA names Matt Skidds as new athletic director

Now in his eighth year at Coe-Brown Northwood Academy, former physical education and health teacher Matthew J. Skidds is enjoying his new position as the academy’s athletic director. Mr. Skidds was appointed following the retirement last June of Tom Hall, who held the position for 17 years.

“This is a terrific job,” says Mr. Skidds, who is finishing up a master’s degree in educational administration at the University of Cincinnati. “Being athletic director allows me to grow professionally while doing the work that I love.”

In addition to teaching freshman orientation and acting as senior portfolio advisor for four students, Mr. Skidds does the scheduling for all of CBNA’s many sports teams, oversees all the coaches, and coordinates referees and other officials. He continues to serve as head coach for the varsity girls’ volleyball team, as he has done for the past five years. Of his fellow CBNA coaches, Mr. Skidds says, “We are fortunate to have a staff that is dedicated and willing to work with the students outside of the classroom.”

Mr. Skidds credits Tom Hall with fostering an atmosphere of sportsmanship at the Academy over the years. “Sportsmanship is key. Winning is nice; helping our athletes build character is the ultimate goal,” says Mr. Skidds. CBNA received the 2005-2006 Class I New Hampshire Interscholastic Athletic Association Sportsmanship Award at the organization’s 60th annual meeting on September 18, one of many such distinctions the academy has earned over the years. The award recognizes a school’s efforts to promote the values of ethics and sportsmanship among its athletes.

A graduate of the University of New Hampshire with a bachelor’s degree in kinesiology and a master’s in secondary education, Mr. Skidds completed his student teaching in Barrington. He and his wife, Aimee, live in Rochester.

CBNA welcomes new faculty and staff

By Jeanne Goulet

Coe-Brown Northwood Academy is pleased to introduce the newest members to its faculty and staff:

Pat Clark is the new Student Resource Officer for Coe-Brown. In the past she has worked for both the UNH and the Nottingham Police departments.

Emily Crompton is a recent graduate of Keene State College. In addition to teaching Physical Education and Health at Coe-Brown, Ms. Crompton coaches the girls’ Junior Varsity Soccer team and will assist with the Varsity Softball team this spring.

Holly Gahm has 25 years of experience in education and is a graduate of the University of Vermont and the University of New Hampshire. A Reading Specialist, Ms. Gahm team-teaches ninth-grade English and works individually with students as well. In addition, she teaches Freshman Orientation.

Louise Palmer is a graduate of Roberts Wesleyan College and has been teaching for three years. This year she is teaching French I, II and III at Coe-Brown.

Tara Tenasco is the newest member of the guidance department. She has worked in education for five years and graduated from Wilkes University, UNH and Plymouth State University.
By Ginny Rogers, CBNA Alumni Association

Inclement weather did not hinder 103 alumni, spouses, friends, former teachers and guests from gathering for the CBNA Alumni Association’s Annual Banquet on June 10. Alumni Association President Sam Johnson ’66 acted as master of ceremonies for the event, which was held in the new dining hall located in the lower level of the Science Building. CBNA Headmaster David Smith offered guided tours of the academy buildings and grounds for those willing to brave the rain.

Members of several reunion classes attended to mark their special milestones:

- Class of 1936 (70th), two members
- Class of 1951 (55th), one member
- Class of 1956 (50th), ten members
- Class of 1966 (40th), one member
- Class of 1971 (35th), three members
- Class of 1976 (30th), four members
- Class of 1986 (20th), two members
- Class of 1991 (15th), two members

In addition, the Class of 1948 had five members present.

Special recognition was given to the following alumni:

- Female Representative of Earliest Class, Irene Brown Shores ’35
- Male Representative of Earliest Class, Ted Reese ’38
- Attendee Traveling the Farthest
  Barbara DeMeritt Gray ’56 (California)
- Class with Most Members Present, Class of ’56
- Representative of the Most Recent Class,
  Tania Drown ’04

Class Agent Coordinator Ginny Rogers introduced class agents in attendance and presented each one with a flowering plant in appreciation of their time preparing class notes and updating mailing lists.

On display was Grace Merl Akins’ 1918 diploma which was donated by her children: Ralph “Duke” Seavey ’39 (deceased 2006), Fred Seavey ’42 (deceased 1999), Merl Seavey Bartels ’42, Frances Seavey Carlson ’43, Donald Seavey, Phyllis Seavey Powers and Robert Seavey. There were also tables and boards filled with yearbooks and memorabilia on display.

Alumni Scholarships were awarded to Christie Plummer ’03; Alissa DeTrude ’04; Kristen Swain ’06 and Vanessa May ’06. The George B. Rogers ’36 Memorial Scholarship was awarded to Andrew Plummer ’05.

The door prize, a beautiful chest made and donated by CBNA’s Woodworking Shop, was won by Daniel Tasker ’74.

Thank you to everyone who donated items to the raffle.

Donors and winners were:

- 4th of July Basket and Garden Basket by Marlene Burklund Paige ’50, won by Gloria Young and Anne Witham Kustron ’56

Thirty-three golfers hit the links at Nippo Lake Golf Club in Barrington on June 9 for the first-ever CBNA Alumni and Friends Golf Tournament. While no one scored a hole in one to win one of two Massey Ferguson GC2300 Series compact tractors courtesy of Northwood Power Equipment, the participants did raise more than $1,700 to benefit CBNA’s endowment fund. The tournament featured a continental breakfast, 18 holes of golf with a cart, a full luncheon and raffle drawings.

The team of Gary Carlson, Keith Newton and Ron Fisher emerged as the winner of the tournament with a combined average score of 63. In second place were Dan Tasker ’74, Doug Peterson, Derek Peterson ’05 and John Dodge ’72 with an average team score of 64. Fred Holmes ’71, Walter King and Elliott Hathaway also won prizes for the most “challenged” golfers, but we will refrain from revealing their team score.

Tournament and raffle prize sponsors were Nippo Lake Golf Club (four rounds of golf with cart), Pease Golf Course (two rounds of golf with a cart), Gunstock Mountain (two ski passes), Dick’s Sporting Goods (four $25 gift certificates), Northwood Hannaford (four $25 gift cards), New Hampshire Fisher Cats (four game tickets) and Holy Rosary Credit Union (two Red Sox tickets). A number of area restaurants and businesses donated gift certificates: Blue Loon Pizzeria, Chadbourn’s Restaurant, Heritage True Value Hardware, Johnson’s Seafood and Steak, Liu’s Garden II and Susty’s Cafe. Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of New England, Wal-Mart Concord and Wal-Mart Rochester provided refreshments for the tournament while Public Service of New Hampshire donated bags.

The 2007 tournament is scheduled for Saturday, June 9. Any golfer is welcome to participate in the tournament. Watch the CBNA web site (www.coebrownacademy.com) for registration information and materials. To have a registration form mailed to you, call the CBNA Development Office at 603-942-5531, ext. 186. For information about becoming a tournament sponsor, call or e-mail Margaret Joyce at 603-942-5531, ext. 186, or mjoyce@coebrownacademy.com.

Secure your spot on CBNA’s Wall of Remembrance

Thank you to the following people who have purchased $50 or $100 tiles in the CBNA Buy-a-Tile program. This campaign will run through June 30, 2007, so if you haven't purchased your tile yet, you still have some time. At the close of the campaign we will place an order for tiles and mount them on the wall of the new Dining Center in the lower level of the Science Building.
