There Are 700 Good Reasons to Support
Coe-Brown Northwood Academy’s Annual Fund

Your gift to Coe-Brown Northwood Academy’s Annual Fund directly benefits the students at CBNA. This year’s Annual Fund will support the purchase of a mobile computer cart for the Academy. These carts are designed to bring technology right into the classroom with laptop computers that can be easily distributed then packed up again and moved on to the next classroom. Our fundraising goal for this year is $35,000 and the Annual Fund closes June 30, 2008. Your gift truly helps!

Here are some of them...

Kristal Kostiew Yush
pursues her Olympic dream

Kristal Kostiew Yush graduated from Coe-Brown Northwood Academy in 2000. She went on to pursue a degree at the University of Vermont, where she began competing in hammer throw. While at Vermont she collected 14 America East Championships and was a four-time Vermont team MVP, as well as four-time America East Field Performer of the Year. In 2004 she was the America East Scholar Athlete of the Year and an Academic All American. She married Derek Yush in July 2005 and they currently reside in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Kristal qualified for her first USA team in 2007 by finishing second at the USA Outdoor Championships. By winning a silver medal at the national championship, Kristal earned the right to represent the United States at the Pan American Games in Rio de Janeiro in July, where she took fourth place, as well as at the 2007 IAAF World Championship in Athletics in Osaka, Japan, in August. Kristal has now set her sights on the upcoming Olympic trials and the 2008 Summer Games in Beijing, China.

How did you begin participating in hammer throw?

I began as a freshman at the University of Vermont. My coach, Ed Kusiak, introduced me to the hammer to help score more points for the team at the conference meet. I went into college as a good discus, javelin and shot putter with marks that were competitive in the America East Conference. I believe I finished third in the conference as a freshman with a high mark of 152’ and things just got better from there.

As a sophomore I broke the UVM school record (formerly held by Olympian Anna Norgren) with a best mark of 182. In my junior year I became more competitive in the NCAA region throwing 188, and as a senior finished ninth in the region with a best mark of 191 feet, seven inches. While at UVM I also set the indoor and outdoor shot put records as well as the indoor 20-pound weight throw record for UVM and the America East conference.

Exactly what is the hammer throw?

The hammer I throw is not the one that people typically imagine when I tell them what I do. It is not your traditional hammer used to drive nails at a construction site. It is actually an event that derived from the Scottish Highland Games and modified for track and field. The hammer implement itself is a 4kg (8.8 lbs. for women, 16 lbs. for men) steel ball on a swivel. The swivel is attached to a wire and the wire is attached to a handle. The whole system is just under four feet long. The thrower enters into a 7’2” ring and must complete a series of winds (typically 2 or 3) where they remain stationary at the back of the circle (back to the direction of throw). After these winds/swings the thrower then turns to the left (if right handed) on a heel or toe and completes a turn.

What was your major in college and what career path have you pursued?

I attended the University of Vermont on a full athletic scholarship. I majored in education and exercise and sport sciences and graduated in 2004 with my teaching degree (physical education for K-12). Right before graduation I signed a contract to teach high school physical education in Montville, Connecticut. This year I have relocated to Baton Rouge with my husband who has a coaching job at Louisiana State University and I will be teaching K-8 physical education and social studies at Crescent Elementary School as well as coaching volleyball and track at Plaquemine High School. Working full time, coaching and training sure keeps me busy, but I love all aspects of my life! Work helps me to have something non track-related that I am good at and enjoy; coaching helps me to give back to kids and participate in sports that I love; and the training is just a bonus!

Did your academic and athletic experience at Coe-Brown contribute to your desire to pursue compete at the international level?

If anyone had told me when I was in high school that someday soon I would be one of the best athletes in my sport, I wouldn’t have believed it. When I was in high school I had dreams of someday making an Olympic team, but I guess I never really believed that it was a true possibility for me. I always thought that I would play college basketball somewhere and that would be it. That was where my love was. Then the calls started coming from track coaches across the country and I started to think, “Hey, I could be pretty good at throwing in college.” One thing led to another and now here I am—one of the best in the world!

I think that a lot of what I took from academics and athletics from Coe Brown was the drive for excellence no matter what the circumstances were. I remember with basketball, Mr. Hall always told my team that we were capable of so much, not to give up, and work for our goals and get out there and achieve them. Being a part of two of his state championship teams really helped to develop a core feeling that I could achieve anything that I put my mind to through hard work and dedication. My dad showed me similar lessons (he coached me in throwing when I decided to try track my sophomore year), as well. His patience, dedication and belief in me really helped me to see what I was really capable of. He would come to practice each day after work and help me and the other throwers to become good. His attention to detail and never letting me go home until I had a good practice really helped to hone the discipline that I need in my practice sessions today.

The same was true with academics. The teachers I had—Mr. Johnson, Mr. Hall, Mr. Colby, Mr. Ashley, Mr. McCormick and Mrs. Dana—they always expected the best from all of their students. I was no exception. I remember one day I was having a difficult time with math and getting so frustrated and Mr. Johnson would not let me leave class until I got it—which eventually I did. Mr. McCormick never accepted anything less than our best for chorus and worked so patiently until everyone got it. Mr. Colby asked us day in and day out to think outside the box and imagine what we could become in five years. It was all the little things from coaches, teachers and family that helped to create the base of confidence and drive to achieve what I have so far.

What role has your family played in your athletic career?

I truly believe that the support of my family (including my husband) has played an important role in my success. Knowing that they are there and supportive no matter how I do or what I accomplish is one of the best feelings in the world. It doesn’t matter to them how far I throw, if I make an Olympic team or where I compete. Having that knowledge can be really comforting when I’ve had a bad meet or am thousands of miles from home.

All my life my parents have been there at my athletic events, never missing a game, meet or event. Dad has acted as a travel companion to some of my cross-country trips when my husband couldn’t make it. I can always count on Mom or Dad or both of them to be there to cheer me on. Even when they can’t physically be there to watch, they ask me to show them videos of the event so they can feel like they were there cheering me on! Having that support means everything in the world.

Having my husband always on my side supporting me no matter how I perform is really a rod of strength for me, too. Derek is my current coach so he is tough on me, telling me when I am capable of more, when I totally choked, or performed at my best. He is sometimes brutally honest, which is difficult to hear, but at the same time I know he is always on my side. Derek tries never to miss a meet of mine, as well, no matter if it is in Arizona, Japan or Boston. Besides being the best coach I could imagine, he is the best husband a girl could ever ask for!
Welcome new faculty and staff

Coe-Brown Northwood Academy is pleased to introduce the newest members to its faculty and staff:

Laurie Foster, RN, is the new school nurse. She is a graduate of Roberts Wesleyan College and the University of Vermont. In addition to nursing duties, Laurie will teach health classes and participate in freshmen orientation classes.

Carol Gephart will be teaching classes in both the math and science departments at Coe-Brown. With two master’s degrees, this graduate of Hope College, Michigan State University and the University of New Hampshire brings to CBNA 19 years of combined teaching and coaching experience.

Amanda Hodgdon, a graduate of Coe-Brown, is also a recent graduate from the University of New Hampshire. She has been working in various schools for the past four years, and serves Coe-Brown as a substitute teacher as well as the director for Project Success, an after school aid program.

Chad McGann, a graduate of Coe-Brown, has attended Hesser College and has been working in education for the past three years. He is an in-class paraprofessional working in the Special Education department.

Maria Maness attended the Community College of the Air Force, University of Maryland and University of New Hampshire. In addition to teaching Spanish courses, she also serves as advisor to the International Club.

Beth Mennelle has served Coe-Brown in the past as a substitute teacher. A graduate of Alfred University, she is a full-time substitute this year.

Wendy Porter is the newest member of the guidance department. She is a graduate of both Plymouth State University and Lesley University.

Joe Vachon, a 15-year veteran of the computer industry, serves as Coe-Brown’s technology director. He attended Lyndon State College.

David Zink-Mailoux, a graduate of the University of New Hampshire, has been working in education for the past three years. He is an in-class paraprofessional working in the Special Education department, and will also serve as the head coach for CBNA’s spring track and field team.

Donations Fund Grants for CBNA Faculty and Staff

Several faculty and staff members were awarded $500 grants for academic year 2006-2007. The funds for this grant program are donated by individuals who wish their gift to be used in specific areas such as Arts, Academics, Athletics, Vocational Education and Administration. We are extremely fortunate to have the support of these dedicated and generous benefactors. The grant recipients are:

Jean Cumings and Honor Arnstein (Academics/Administration) Speakers, materials and field trip for the Healthy Choices Club

Jean Cumings (Academics) Purchase of Stealth Cam for use in biology, environmental science and zoology classes

Wini Young (Academics) Purchase of GPS kit for environmental science class and Young Environmental Activists Club

Pat Savage (Vocational Ed) Camera and supplies for Community Based Instruction program (journals and cottage industry)

As a condition of the grant, each recipient submitted a summary report of the completed project detailing how the funds were expended as well as the short-term impact of the project and any anticipated long-term benefits to the school. Thank you to all our donors for your support.

2008 CBNA Yearbook Reverts to Original Name

The CBNA yearbook is changing its name this year to restore it to the original name of Chronicle. The first Chronicle yearbook was 1935. The Comanche mascot was adopted in the late 1960s and the yearbook was changed in 1972. From 2004 to 2007 the yearbook was called Ursus (the Latin name for bear, our current mascot).

If you are interested in purchasing one of the yearbooks, they are available for $10 each. Make your check payable to CBNA and send to the academy, attn. Caryn Lasky, 907 1st New Hampshire Turnpike, Northwood, NH 03261.

CBNA Receives Second Consecutive Sportsmanship Award

Coe-Brown Northwood Academy unveiled its newest award in front of the entire student body at a recent school assembly. Athletic Director Matt Skidds announced that Coe-Brown has received the New Hampshire Interscholastic Athletic Association’s Class I Sportsmanship Award.

The most prestigious honor awarded by the NHIAA, it is voted on by all schools who participate in Class I athletics. It honors Coe-Brown’s athletes, coaches and spectators for their conduct and sportsmanship during the 2006-2007 athletic season. This is the second consecutive year that Coe-Brown has been a Class I honoree, and Skidds emphasized the role the entire school played in earning this award.

The NHIAA promotes a culture of sportsmanship amongst its member schools and the 44,000 student athletes involved in its programs.
Two new scholarships established in memory of loved ones

Coe-Brown Northwood Academy is the fortunate beneficiary of two new scholarship funds established in the names of loved ones who passed away this year.

The Ralph “Duke” Seavey ’39 Scholarship has been established in the amount of $20,000 by the trustees of his estate. Duke was an avid musician who played clarinet and had his own band. He was a loyal supporter of CBNA and wanted a portion of money from his trust fund to go to CBNA. The money will be used each year for a music scholarship. Several members of Duke’s family graduated from CBNA including his mother, Grace Merl Akins 1918, and siblings Fred Seavey ’42, Merl Seavey Bartels ’42 and Frances Seavey Carlson ’43.

The Nathan C. Lake Memorial Scholarship Fund was established by Mr. Lake’s family following his death this past July. Mr. Lake was a resident of Strafford and, with his wife, Anne, ran Berrybogg Farm for more than 30 years. Although his daughters, Julia Lake Butterfield, Leslie Lake and Cynthia Lake, graduated from St. Thomas Aquinas Academy in Dover and his grandchildren attended Oyster River High School, the family chose CBNA as the beneficiary of the scholarship fund. Mrs. Anne Lake, Nathan Lake’s widow, sums up the family’s decision:

“We chose to start a scholarship in Nathan’s name because education, both formal and informal, was an integral part of who Nathan was,” says Mrs. Lake. “His parents struggled financially to send him to Lafayette College as so many parents do today but they did what they had to do and Nathan lived his life always grateful for the opportunity. We have lived in this community for over 35 years and over the years we have had the pleasure of employing many Coe-Brown students in the blueberry field. We were always impressed with how many of the students were college bound and spoke highly of Coe-Brown. Our family hopes this scholarship will help students realize their dream of college and foster a lifelong love of education, which is how Nathan lived his life.”

To date, the family and friends of Nathan Lake have contributed more than $68,000 to the Nathan C. Lake Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Thank you to both families for your generosity. For more information about establishing a memorial scholarship at Coe-Brown, call the Development Office at 603-942-5531, ext. 186, or e-mail development@coebrownacademy.com.

Visions — Fall 2007 7
Coe-Brown Northwood Academy announces the top ten graduates for 2007

By Jeanne Goulet Reardon

The valedictorian for the class of 2007 was Rebecca L. Harnish of Strafford. During her four years at Coe-Brown, Miss Harnish played on the varsity soccer team as well as the varsity track and field team. She was captain of the soccer team her junior and senior years and captain of the track and field team her senior year. In addition, she was a member of the National Honor Society, National Latin Honor Society, the National Art Honor Society, student government and the school’s math team. Miss Harnish is attending Wake Forest University where she is studying pre-medicine and biology.

Valedictorian

The 2007 salutatorian was Zoe Mistrale Hendrickson of Strafford. She is attending Swarthmore College where she majors in biology. At Coe-Brown, Miss Hendrickson played varsity soccer, softball and basketball. She played softball and basketball all four years of school and was also captain of both teams. She was an active member of the National Honor Society, National French Honor Society, and the National Art Honor Society, for which she served as the group’s treasurer. In addition to her academic and athletic achievements, Miss Hendrickson was a member of the school’s chorus and band, as well as the math team and SADD.

Salutatorian
Emily Helena Brownell of Strafford was an active member of CBNA’s student government, serving as class treasurer her freshman year and as president for the next three years. Miss Brownell has acted in six CBNA theater productions, including the starring role of Sandy in this year’s musical, Grease. She was a member of the track and field and cross-country teams. In addition, she is a member of FBLA, the National Honor Society, the National French Honor Society, International Thespian Society, and her church’s youth group. Miss Brownell is attending Boston University majoring in athletic training. She was awarded several scholarships, including the New Hampshire Charitable Foundation, The Strafford Women’s Garden Club, and a Boston University Grant.

Kaitlyn Cecchetti of Strafford was a member of student government for her four years at Coe-Brown, serving as a class officer as well as a member of Student Council. She is a member of the National Honor Society, the Spanish Honor Society and played on the girls basketball team all four years. Miss Cecchetti is the recipient of the Leadership Academy Scholarship and the Presidential Scholarship and attends Fitchburg State College where she majors in film directing.

Danielle MacDonald of Northwood will major in education at the University of New Hampshire, where she received a Presidential Scholarship. An athlete and scholar, Miss MacDonald was a member of the volleyball, tennis and basketball teams during her years at Coe-Brown. In addition, she was an active member of the National Honor Society and the French Honor Society.

Hannah A. Osgood of Nottingham has been a member of the varsity tennis team and the Coe-Brown chapter of SADD. In addition, she was a member of the National Honor Society, the National Art Honor Society and the National Latin Honor Society. Miss Osgood is attending Gordon College, where she received the Challenge Scholarship. She will major in early childhood education.

Melissa Overmeyer of Northwood is attending Gordon College, where she majors in family counseling. In addition to her academic achievements, Miss Overmeyer was an active member of many school organizations, including the cross-country team, Project SEARCH, the National Honor Society, the Bible Club, band and chorus.

Nicole Smith of Strafford was the Vice President of the class of 2007 since her freshman year at Coe-Brown. In addition, she was an active member of the school’s student council and played varsity tennis all four years. Miss Smith attends Northeastern University where she majors in business.

Sofija R. Sutton of Strafford majors in studio arts at Wheaton College, from which she received a Community Scholarship. She was a member of the school’s math team, jazz band and chorus. In addition, Miss Sutton was the Editor-in-Chief of Coe-Brown’s Literary Magazine, Paragon. She performed in numerous school productions and was a member of the National Honor Society, President of the National Art Honor Society and a member of the International Thespian Society. Outside of school activities and scholastics, Miss Sutton dances at Studio 109 in Rochester.

Nicholas Vina of Strafford is attending Brown University where he majors in physics. Mr. Vina received scholarships from the numerous schools he was accepted to, including the prestigious Rensselaer Medal and a Presidential Scholarship from UNH. He was a four-year member of the Coe-Brown basketball team, and also spent three years on the school’s soccer and track and field teams. In addition to sports, he was an active member of the National Honor Society, the Latin Honor Society and student government.

The remaining top ten graduates are listed in alphabetical order:
10 Visions — Fall 2007

By Ginny Rogers, CBNA Alumni Association

On June 9, 140 alumni, spouses, guests and friends gathered in the CBNA dining hall for the annual Alumni Banquet. As usual Kim and Darlene Cardinal of “Just Us Cardinals” prepared a delicious buffet. Headmaster David Smith conducted a damp walking tour of the campus for those hearty alumni willing to brave the elements.

Alumni Association President Debbie Burklund Marden ’75 introduced Headmaster Smith who briefly outlined accomplishments in 2007 and hopes for the year 2008. He noted that over 200 hopeful freshmen are enrolled for academic year 2007-2008. Headmaster Smith also accepted a donation to a scholarship in memory of Willis “Bud” Rollins ’52, presented to the Academy by Class of 1952 representative Leonard Welch. Margaret Joyce, director of development and alumni affairs gave a brief report on the annual golf tournament and the generosity of alumni who provided financial support to the academy over the past year.

Eighteen class agents were present.

Reunion classes represented were:
1942 (65th) 3 members
1952 (55th) 7 members
1957 (50th) 12 members
1962 (45th) 1 member
1972 (35th) 2 members
1977 (30th) 1 member
1982 (25th) 1 member
1987 (20th) 3 members
1997 (10th) 1 member

The following recognition awards were given:
■ Female Representative of Earliest Class—Irene Brown Shores ’35
■ Male Representative of Earliest Class—John Crummey ’42
■ Attended Traveling the Farthest—Aen Brauer ’69, State of Washington
■ Class with Most Members Present—Class of 1957
■ Representative of the Most Recent Class—Tania Drown ’04.
We appreciate the e-mails and telephone calls stating that this was the “best banquet to date.” It takes a lot of work each year to plan the banquet and accolades are always welcome.

Association Board Officers elected for 2007-2008 are President Debbie Burklund Marden ’75; Vice President Carolyn Knox O’Neal ’87; Secretary Amy Stanley Paine ’78; Treasurer Robin Burklund Drown ’76; Corresponding Secretary Jessica Marden Weeks ’00; Scholarship Chairman Ginny Rogers ’36 Associate. Members-at-Large are Brian Allen ’82; Gretchen Pratt Colpritt ’90; Linda Lovely Eastman ’76; Barbara Holmes Pratt ’65; and Charles S. Bailey ’72.

The Class of 1957 (12 members strong) celebrated their 50th reunion with a very special guest, former teacher Phyllis Batchelder MacPherson, who traveled from Florida to attend. She also made a beautiful quilt to be used as a door prize, which was won by Ashton Welch ’60. Ashton was delighted to win this beautiful prize, made by one of his teachers.

A special thank you to all that donated raffle items. We raised $531 for the Alumni Operating Fund. Each year the CBNA Woodworking Shop makes a beautiful chest for the Alumni Association to give as a door prize. This year’s winner was Patricia Houlihan Sweisthal ’61.

In Memoriam

We are saddened to report the passing of the following members of the CBNA family:

J. Wesley Broome ’38
James A. Brower ’47
Lucille Boodey Hill ’38
Leslie R. Noyes ’69
Rowena Newell Walsh ’36

The CBNA Alumni Association tries its best to accurately record the names of alumni and friends who have passed away. Please contact Ginny Rogers at 603-942-5580 or grogersk@aol.com about the deaths of alumni and friends of CBNA, particularly those that occur outside the Academy’s local news area.
Loyal golfers help boost
CBNA’s endowment fund

Intermittent rain (all right, it was a steady downpour!) didn’t dampen spirits of the forty golfers who participated in the second annual CBNA Alumni and Friends Golf Tournament on June 9 at Nippo Lake Golf Club in Barrington. The golfers and our generous sponsors, led by Graystone Builders of Strafford, raised more than $2,000 to benefit CBNA’s endowment fund.

Northwood Power Equipment joined us again this year as our hole-in-one sponsor but they were unable to give away a Massey-Ferguson tractor. Better luck next year, golfers!

Our winning team this year consisted of Greg Cullen, Keith DeTrude, Mike Hedstrom and Doug Smith, who unseated last year’s champions. We were especially pleased to have CBNA faculty members Sam Struthers, Matt Skidels, Mark Struthers, Josh Hils, Heidi Cleveland and Mark Carrier join us on the links this year.

Individual hole sponsors for this year’s tournament were Northwood Physical Therapy, CBNA Alumni Association, McBride’s Water Advantage, O-Bees Electric, Holy Rosary Credit Union, Inn At Deerfield, Inventex, New England Signal Systems, Northwood Diner, MD Tasker Construction, Tasker’s Well Company and Northwood Transportation.

Thank you so much to all our players and sponsors!

The 2008 tournament is scheduled for Saturday, June 14. We welcome golfers of all abilities! Watch the CBNA web site (www.coebrownacademy.com) for registration information and materials. To have a registration form mailed to you, call the CBNA Development Office at 603-942-5531, ext. 186, or e-mail development@coebrownacademy.com.

Assistant Headmaster Paul W. Davis, Jr., with CBNA student and tournament volunteer Nate Legere ’08.

Keith Guptill ’79 and Doug Smith.

Paul Guptill ’52 and David Newell ’52.
