Dear Friends,

The 2015-2016 academic year is off to a great start! I would like to personally thank the Coe-Brown Northwood community for their support of our students, it is greatly noticed and appreciated. We are pleased to welcome the following new staff members to our Coe-Brown family:

A graduate of CBNA, Ms. Fenerty will be teaching freshman and senior English. She hopes to be involved with the various writing clubs and eventually start a school spirit club.

We will also miss faculty members Rita Dana (English) and Steve Smith (Guidance) after many years of service to our academy, and would like to thank the Cardinals for their 10 years of service and development of the Food Service Program and dining area. Each of their contributions to our school environment was greatly appreciated, and we wish them well as they enter their retirement.

Sincerely,

David S. Smith

Norma Schliessman Cater’s legacy lives on

Norma Schliessman Cater, Class of 1941, bequeathed $25,000 to Coe-Brown Northwood Academy in her will and the Academy has subsequently dedicated the lobby adjacent to the Gerrish Gymnasium in her memory. A beautiful plaque bearing her name now graces the lobby. For more information about Norma Schliessman Cater and her remarkable life, please see the article published in the fall 2010 issue of Visions magazine.

CBNA Hosts 2015 Special Olympics Seacoast Area Winter Games

On a snowy Saturday in February Coe-Brown Northwood Academy hosted the 2015 Special Olympics of New Hampshire Seacoast Area Winter Games. A proud tradition for about a decade, these games were finally held again after three years of cancellation due to lack of snow and poor field conditions. About 200 Special Olympics athletes from many teams around the state competed in cross-country ski and snowshoe events ranging from 10 to 7,500 meters in length.

Event coordinator and CBNA faculty member Shawn White and Special Olympics Field Coordinator Miranda Morse extended their thanks to the many Coe-Brown faculty, staff, and student volunteers whose efforts both ensured and enhanced the success of this event. Special thanks to the Northwood Crankpullers Association for helping to pack down snow on the race tracks. We look forward to next year’s games!

CBNA Sophomores Selected in VFW Voice of Democracy Contest

Coe-Brown Northwood Academy proudly announces the local winners of the Voice of Democracy Essay Contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW). Nearly 50 CBNA sophomores participated in the contest with the assistance of their English teacher Kathy Biery. The winners, LilyGrace York (first), Gwyn Norris (second) and Abigail Devaney (third), were selected by members of the Northwood VFW Post and were presented with certificates and checks by VFW Post 7217 Commander Shannan Brown Neisler and Post Adjutant Dan Barnhart at a school assembly.

Since 1947, the Voice of Democracy Program has been the VFW’s premier scholarship program. Each year, more than 50,000 high school students compete for more than $2.3 million in scholarships and incentives. This year’s theme was “Why Veterans are Important to Our Nation’s History and Future.” To enter the contest students were required to record a reading of their essays to a CD. Paper copies of the essays are also submitted. Congratulations to these talented students!

CBNA Senior Named Semifinalists in 2016 National Merit Scholarship Program

Officials of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation recently announced that Coe-Brown seniors Zach Rheaume and Jake Scarponi have been named semifinalists in the National Merit Scholarship Program. Zach and Jake join approximately 16,000 other semifinalists nationwide in this 61st annual Merit Scholarship Program. Zach and Jake, along with these other academically talented students, have an opportunity to continue in the competition for some 8,000 National Merit scholarships worth about $35 million that will be offered next spring. To be considered for a Merit Scholarship award, semifinalists must fulfill several requirements including submitting a detailed application and essay to advance to the finalist level of the competition. About 90% of the semifinalists are expected to attain finalist standing, and more than half of the finalists will win a National Merit Scholarship, earning the Merit Scholar title.

Zach Rheaume

Congratulations to Zach Rheaume and Jake Scarponi on this achievement.
Douglas Richard Dimes began making Windsor chairs in 1964 as a means to support his young family. His wife’s family had been furniture makers and he learned the craft as he went along. At the time, his colonial reproduction furniture was not particularly popular—in the 1960s and early 1970s mid-century modern was all the rage. But then the bicentennial rolled around and museum-quality reproduction furniture was suddenly in high demand.

In 1977 Mr. Dimes moved his family to Northwood, New Hampshire, and built a woodworking workshop. In the fall of 1978 his son, Douglas P. Dimes, started working in his father’s shop sweeping floors. At 15 he began sanding chairs. The day after he got his driver’s license Doug began driving the company delivery truck.

“I also played basketball and baseball,” says Doug, “and I played in the state championships in all three sports. We won the state championship in basketball my senior year. I played with Wade Sauls, Jamie Johnson and Earl Jock. We weren’t the tallest players or the best team but we were tough and we wanted to win.”

Mr. Walter Damon, who still teaches mathematics at Coe-Brown, was the boys’ basketball coach at the time.

“Mr. Damon was an amazing coach,” says Doug. “He had such confidence in our team.”

Mr. Thomas Hall, Coe-Brown’s former athletic director and the boys’ soccer coach, was another positive influence on Doug.

“‘The goal is that way,’ Mr. Hall would say. ‘Keep moving forward!’”

After graduating from Coe-Brown in 1984, Doug attended the University of New Hampshire to study business. All he ever wanted to do was work in his father’s company.

After college Doug assumed the role of marketing director at D.R. Dimes. He made his mark by growing the business and building the brand.

“I invented several pieces of equipment that helped us work faster and more efficiently,” says Doug. My father always wanted to move the company forward and he was open to new ideas. His philosophy was that if one idea worked it would pay for all the other ones that didn’t.”

In 2004 Doug’s father semi-retired and Doug ran the company until he bought the business from his father in 2010.

“It was a real struggle during the economic downturn,” says Doug. “In 2008 business dropped to almost nothing.”

But demand for D.R. Dimes’ products began to grow again. The company sells much of its furniture through architects and interior designers; specialty retailers and authorized dealers are no longer the main distribution channels.
“We have been involved in some amazing projects,” continues Doug. “Independence Hall, Colonial Williamsburg, the Smithsonian Institution—there are pieces of D.R. Dimes furniture in all these places. Our furniture was used in the Mel Gibson movie, The Patriot, and we are the official maker of the signature Harkness tables used in classrooms at Phillips Exeter Academy.”

D.R. Dimes also shipped one of its Harkness tables, along with 22 chairs, to a customer in Saudi Arabia last year.

But their most exciting commission to date came about last year when D.R. Dimes installed 108 pieces of furniture in the Edward M. Kennedy Institute for the United States Senate in Boston. The furniture included replicas of the senate president’s desk, four tables, two lecterns and 100 senate desks. The institute’s mission is to help educate the public about the important role of the Senate in our government.

“We had to submit a sealed bid,” says Doug. “The contractors were not convinced that this small shop in New Hampshire could do the job but we delivered everything on time. Nine of my employees spent about eight weeks working on the project. The furniture had to be the highest quality; they didn’t want it to look like a movie set.”

At the dedication of the institute, several former and current U.S. senators, including New Hampshire Senator Jeanne Shaheen, congratulated Doug and his team on their craftsmanship.

“I knew we would do a good job,” says Doug.

While Doug was busy helping to growing D.R. Dimes and Company, he still managed to find time to give back to his community. When Dave Smith took over as coach of the boys’ basketball team, he asked Doug to be his assistant coach.

“It was great to be able to instill my love of the game in these young people and to work alongside Mr. Smith,” says Doug. Doug also served on the Coe-Brown Board of Trustees, joining the board at the tender age of 28. He was part of a team that negotiated the teachers’ contracts and he felt privileged to be working with people he knew and cared about.

While D.R. Dimes furniture can be found in locations such as Nantucket, Palm Beach and Houston, Doug Dimes is most proud of the jobs he provides to local residents, the excellent relationships he has with his vendors and customers, and the work ethic and love of his craft that he inherited from his father.

The home page of the D.R. Dimes web site appropriately features the following quote from Doug Dimes: “Yes, we’re in the furniture business, but manifestly, we’re in the history business.”

Be sure to check out the video about D.R. Dimes’ involvement in the Kennedy Institute at www.drdimes.com.
Forty-eight golfers participated in the 10th Annual CBNA Paul Guptill ’52 Alumni and Friends Golf Tournament at Nippo Lake Golf Club in Barrington on June 13, 2015. The tournament brought in almost $3,000 for Coe-Brown’s endowment fund this year and has raised just over $40,000 in its ten-year run. Many thanks to the golfers and sponsors who made this possible! It is gratifying to have so many alumni, faculty, students and friends of the Academy supporting the tournament.

Congratulations to the winning foursome of Trevor Mauck ’02, Michael Sims, Isaiah Smith ’02 and John Newman ’98. Their score was an impressive 55! Second place went to Harley Stevens, Gregg Rouleau, Mike Todd and Mike Rouleau with a score of 61 and the coveted Most Challenged Golfers award went to Paul Guptill ’52, Joe Guptill ’17, Frank Richards and Doug Peterson. The Coe-Brown girls’ athletic teams enjoyed remarkable success last year, earning a total of five Division II state championships between them.

The Coe-Brown Lady Bears cross country team pushed their winning streak to five Division II titles last fall, their sixth in program history. By placing six runners in the top 10 and seven in the top 13, CBNA tallied one of the lowest winning scores in New Hampshire history with 22 points. The team went on to win their fourth consecutive Meet of Champions; they took second in the New England Cross Country Championships; and placed 16th at the Nike Cross Nationals. Coaches Tim Cox and Brent Tkaczyk were named New Hampshire Coaches of the Year by the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association.

The girls’ basketball team enjoyed an undefeated (22-0) season, capturing the program’s first title since 2000. Foster’s Daily Democrat named Coach Joe Vachon the DII girls’ basketball coach of the year, an impressive feat for his first year as head coach! Jenny Schlim ’15 was named to Foster’s First Team; Abby Ahern ’15 was named to the Second Team; and Debbie Peabody ’15, Sarah Curtin ’15 and Haley Ruth ’15 all received honorable mention.

The girls’ indoor track and field team earned its third straight DII championship title, after the event was postponed two times due to snow. In addition to the team title, the girls earned individual honors in the 4x800 relay (Brooke Laskowsky ’16, Katie Scannell ’15, Meg Scannell ’16 and Eleanor McDonough ’18) and the long jump (Ariel Clachar ’15).

The Coe-Brown girls’ softball team captured the DII championship for the second year in a row, as the Bears retained their state title with a 10-1 win over top-ranked Goffstown at Southern New Hampshire University. Six seniors – Kianna Daudelin, Amanda Riley, Holly Donohue, Jessica Ohrenberger, Abigail Ahern and Caitlin Foley – went a combined 12-for-24 at bat with eight runs batted in and five runs scored. The Bears entered the championship game with a 17-3 record. Over the last three seasons, the CBNA softball team has put together an impressive 51-8 record.

Coe-Brown also earned its fourth straight Division II girls’ track and field championship with 151 points, the most they’ve scored in their run of four. Hannah Parker ’15 won the 800 meter race, and was also instrumental in the 4x800 relay, which she won along with teammates Ahna McCusker ’18, Katie Scannell ’15 and Brooke Laskowsky ’17. Their time of 9:34.6 broke the old DII record of 9:42.81 set in 2009 by another Coe-Brown team. Other first-place finishes at the championship meet included Elisabeth Danis ’16 in the 3200, Kathleen Collins ’18 in the discus, Christen Gallant ’17 in javelin and Ariel Clachar ’15 in the long jump. Ariel’s winning jump of 19-2¾ shattered the D-II record of 17-8¼ that she set last year.

Congratulations to all our Lady Bears!
